

COLUMBIA, S. C.

Tuesday Morning, November 9, 1899.

The Fair of the South Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical Society.

On to-morrow, the Sixth Annual Fair of this Society will open. We hope to find the State represented from the mountains to the sea-board. The movement is one that commends itself to the warm support of every friend and advocate of home interests. Before the war, our Fairs were successful and achieved much good. Now, more than ever, we must move on upon this line. The State of South Carolina now expects every true son to do his part in the work of material regeneration. The ravages of war must be repaired with the victories of peace. What the sword has prostrated, the plow, the loom and the anvil must upraise. This Fair, to-morrow, represents South Carolina organizing her forces anew for the industrial arena. Let our people work on in faith and hope, and ere long, despite political obstructions, we shall again enjoy prosperous days.

The Richmond Dispatch says of General Preston's address:

"Last evening, at 8 o'clock a very large select audience assembled at the Broad-street Methodist Church to hear the address of General John S. Preston, of Columbia, S. C. The orator, who is a gentleman of very commanding appearance, was listened to with great attention, and delivered an address full of classic eloquence, and which was made doubly interesting by the earnest and beautiful delivery of the speaker. He reviewed, in the liveliest manner, the noble efforts of our ancestors in the establishment of the right of self-government and the suppression of tyranny, and pointed to the duty of the present generation in the accomplishment of the glorious future promised to Virginia. He spoke for about an hour and a half, and kept his audience very much interested. At the conclusion of his address Mr. Lyons moved that a vote of thanks be tendered the speaker, and that he be requested to furnish the Society with a copy for publication. The motion was carried unanimously."

A WRONG IMPRESSION CORRECTED.—Many persons believe that there is no value in anything that does not come from "the North." How humiliating! However, this impression is being gradually corrected. It is now admitted that no remedial agents have ever been discovered, North or South, that possess, in so eminent a degree, the power of eradicating from the system all foul distemper, as Dr. TUTT'S SARSAPARILLA AND QUEEN'S DELIGHT. The secret is, it assists nature to do this through its own channels. It is composed of vegetable substances alone, every one of which grows on Southern soil. It is the BLOOD PURIFIER OF THE AGE. N613

A NOTICEABLE FACT.—That one way of appealing to a man's reason is through his eye. In these busy times, men are so deeply immersed in the conduct of magnificent projects, that they forget all about the condition of their systems, and hence it is that the proprietors of the Plantation Bitters, which cures Dyspepsia, purifies the blood, improves the tone of the stomach, regulates the bowels, and, indeed, invigorates the whole inner man, are so active in advertising. In fact, advertisements are merely sky-rockets sent up to attract attention to a really good article.

At the adjourned railroad meeting, held at Lancaster Court House, on Monday, the action of the Camden Convention was approved of, a vote was ordered to be taken on the question of subscribing $200,000 by the County to the Water and North Carolina Railroad, and it was declared impracticable at this time to engage in a railroad project from Lancaster to Georgetown.

The siege of Jacmel, Haiti, by Salnav's forces has been raised, and the troops were, at last accounts, marching against the revolutionary forces under Brice, who had already captured Miragone. The revolutionists in St. Domingo remain inactive near Azua. A rumor of the sale of St. Domingo to the United States is gaining strength there.

Fire.—On Monday morning last, about 2 o'clock, the premises of Mr. Alfred Ayer were discovered to be on fire, and before the fire could be arrested, there were consumed 150 bushels of corn, 4 bales cotton, and some $80 or $100 worth of provisions.—Camden Journal.

PROCLAMATION! By his Excellency ROBERT K. SCOTT, Governor of the State of South Carolina.

WHEREAS, information has been received at this Department, that portions of the County of Sumter, in said State, are infested by bands of lawless and unprincipled men, who, under pretext of suppressing illicit traffic in cotton, have wilfully and maliciously set fire to and consumed the storehouses of citizens, and openly avowed their determination of perpetrating similar outrages upon the property of others, unless the threatening notices served upon them by these wrong-doers are promptly obeyed; and whereas, these unlawful parties are regularly organized, armed and mounted, and, disguised in fantastic costumes, pluck out at night, in bodies too strong to be confronted or arrested by the peace officers of the County, and this, in derogation of the laws, in violation of the peace and good order of the community, and the jeopardizing of the lives and property of the citizens.

Now, therefore, I, ROBERT K. SCOTT, Governor of the State of South Carolina, do hereby issue this, my proclamation, enjoining and directing all Magistrates, Sheriffs, and other officers of the peace, in said County of Sumter, to be faithful, vigilant and active in the upholding of the laws and in the discharge of their duties, and especially in ferreting out, and bringing to punishment, the perpetrators of these nefarious outrages, and I would earnestly invoke the aid of the law-abiding citizens of the County, of those who have an interest in its reputation and prosperity, that they all discountenance and discourage all measures and proceedings tending to violence and insubordination, and especially those which would obstruct the peaceable process of the law the torch of the incendiary.

Incendiaries, at all times and places, is a crime of the gravest magnitude, but its terrible teachings make it doubly dangerous in a community like ours. If those who pretend to possess the property, the intelligence and the morality of the community resort to it, under the pretence of enforcing the law, or punishing dishonesty, they must not be surprised if others, not so favored, smarting under a sense of injustice and wrong, by which, perhaps, they have been defrauded of the hard-earned proceeds of their labor, and their families deprived of food, clothing and shelter, (and such cases are not infrequent,) should resort to the same summary process for redress. The protection of law being withdrawn from property, and a self-constituted and irresponsible body of individuals assuming to themselves the power of pronouncing upon the guilt or innocence of individuals, alleged to be dishonest, but too frequently because they are personally or politically obnoxious to their accusers, the flood-gates of crime are at once opened; antagonistic associations will be organized, and the community become the prey of hostile factions, primarily excited by revenge, but which will eventually be characterized by plunder and license, and the exhibition of the worst passions of human nature.

The lurid glare of the mid-night torch will light up many a peaceful neighborhood with scenes of desolation and plunder, and to atrocities, at the mere allusion to which humanity shudders, and which every good citizen, every lover of his kind, all who value and honor the reputation and prosperity of the State, should ardently deprecate and devote their most strenuous exertions to prevent and punish.

It is my duty and determination to put to use all the measures at my disposal, and to see that proceedings that may lead to such deplorable results; and with this purpose I have summoned to the aid of the peace officers of said County the armed police of the State. Should this be insufficient in arresting and suppressing these lawless proceedings, however much I may regret the necessity, I shall place the County of Sumter under martial law, and invoke the entire power of the State in re-establishing the supremacy of the laws.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great seal of the State to be affixed, at Columbia, this 8th day of November, A. D. 1899, and in the ninety-fourth year, A. D. 1899, and in the independence of the United States of America.

ROBERT K. SCOTT, Governor. F. L. CARDOZO, Secretary of State. Nov 9 Sumter News copy once.

BUSINESS CARDS AND CIRCULARS.—As the season is approaching for the annual travel and distribution of business cards and circulars, our merchants and others will please give attention to the fact that our job office is supplied with the best of boards, of all colors, fine commercial note and other paper, and the very newest and most fashionable styles of type, thus enabling us to supply all of such wants.

CRUMBS.—John A. Moroso, Esq., of the Charleston Courier, is at the Nickerson House.

Mr. Richard Allen—Bryce's corner—is in receipt of a new stock of goods. Give him a call, as his assortment of articles is equal to the best.

We learn that Mr. Robert Adams has composed a piece of music, entitled the "South Carolina State Fair Galop," dedicated to Colonel D. W. Aiken, Secretary and Treasury, which it is expected the Band will play during the Fair.

The young men of Columbia are requested to meet this evening, at 7 1/2 o'clock, at the Washington Street Methodist Episcopal Church, for the purpose of organizing a Young Men's Christian Association. A full representation from all the denominations in the city is earnestly desired.

Godley's Lady's Book, for December, has been received by Messrs. Bryan & McCarter. The reading matter and illustrations are fully up to the work.

Mr. Peabody distributed fully $5,000,000 in charity during his life.

Mr. R. Hamilton, of the Pavilion Hotel, Charleston, arrived yesterday, and will remain a few days.

THE FAIR GROUNDS AND BUILDINGS FORMALLY TURNED OVER TO THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—Quite an interesting incident occurred yesterday afternoon, at the Fair Grounds. This was the formal turning over of the grounds and buildings by the City Council of Columbia, to the Executive Committee of the State Agricultural and Mechanical Society. The Mayor and Aldermen were present, and of the Executive Committee, were, General Hagood, Secretary Aiken, and Messrs. Wallace, Palmer and Thomas. The Mayor made the following remarks: Mr. President, and Members of the State Executive Committee.

Allow me, gentlemen, on behalf of the city of Columbia, to transfer to your keeping the buildings and grounds for the use of the State Agricultural and Mechanical Fair. They are not what the city would desire; you must take the will for the deed; such as they are, the Society is made most welcome. I need not dwell on the poverty of our city; that you may be conversant with, for every South Carolinian knows full well how our city suffered. Property—private, as well as public—was destroyed; the finances at a low ebb; the citizens, for over three months, fed at ration houses, contributed by the State, and our neighbors of Georgia; in fact, we were reduced to pauperism; but thanks to Him who rules the destiny of men as well as nations, for planting in the hearts of those of our citizens who survived the tried ordeal through which they had to pass, a determined spirit, joined with manly energy, resolving in their minds to rebuild and reconvert this our fair city; and, Mr. President, considering the disadvantages under which they labored, they have performed wonders; our streets have put on something of a business aspect, and time and opportunity is all that is required to place our Capitol where was her wont, as fair and beautiful as any in the land. Our citizens' energy has been exemplified in erecting this building and laying out these grounds. The Fair was talked of at a late day, and the citizens called upon the City Council to take the matter in hand, and they did. The only excuse, gentlemen, we have to offer for the unfinished state of the building, is a want of means—time and means—two very important levers to work with. Such as they are, you are welcome, thrice welcome; and may the undertaking in which you are engaged be crowned with that success to which you are justly entitled, and may it prove the harbinger of a glorious future.

General Hagood, President of the Society, replied as follows:

Mr. Mayor: It is with great satisfaction and something of surprise, that I receive at your hands the very handsome contribution which Columbia has made to our great State enterprise. I say surprise, for, sir, I have been familiar with effort in the last four years, and I know the difficulty with which anything is now accomplished, with our crippled resources. The grounds you present us with are ample for our purposes, and more than we expected. Something has been said before this of making the State Fairs movable from place to place; but Columbia has nailed the fact to the counter, and nothing will be heard in the future of South Carolina State Fairs anywhere but where this is held. I hope, sir, that you and I will both see the day when our State Fairs will rival their predecessors in completeness, and Columbia will be the Columbia of former days.

We feel it but right to add, that much credit is due to the City Council for their efficient and liberal course in this matter. In a short time, and with limited means, they have erected a handsome and commodious building; have put up the stalls needed, and placed the grounds in an excellent condition. We doubt not that the investment will prove an admirable one to the city.

STATE MONUMENTAL ASSOCIATION.—A meeting will be held this (Tuesday) evening, at Nickerson Hall, at half-past 7 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing an association, having for its object the erection by the women of South Carolina of a monument to the memory of the South Carolinians who fell in defence of the Confederacy. The meeting will be addressed by prominent citizens. All strangers visiting the city, are cordially invited to attend. A large attendance of ladies especially requested.

NEW PASSENGER COACH.—We enjoyed the pleasure of a trial trip, yesterday, of a new first-class passenger coach, which has just been constructed at the shops of the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Railroad Company. It is of superior workmanship, and Superintendent Book-night and Master Machinist Kline may well congratulate themselves on the skill evidenced by their employees. The car is tastefully painted and decorated—the handiwork of Mr. James Milne, and is what is termed the "Monitor" pattern, with inclined sides. The window strips and sashes are of walnut; blinds and panel work over windows, ash; the seats, arms and back mouldings are of walnut; each cushion has a number of springs, which makes it particularly comfortable. Native wood was used exclusively in the construction of this new and beautiful car, which is to be placed under the charge of Conductor Trezevant. Mr. Stephen Davis was the superintending constructor. Railroad work of any and every style is being constructed in these finely-appointed machine shops.
